

i | SIRONA Fact Sheet

About iSirona is the first provider of simplified, software-based solutions for medical device integration. By automating the flow of data from devices directly to a hospital's clinical information system (CIS), this connectivity improves clinician productivity as well as data accuracy and availability within hospitals.

Founded 2008

Website www.iSirona.com

Products DeviceConX

DeviceConX captures patient data from any medical device, regardless of manufacturer. To ensure data is documented correctly, it associates medical devices with the intended patient, not the bed or room. DeviceConX embeds directly into any CIS and gives hospitals the ability to manage, filter and normalize data prior to charting.

iSirona Connectivity Software

This simple, software-based solution integrates standalone medical devices. iSirona's Connectivity Software is deployed on standard hardware, reducing the total cost of ownership for device integration projects.

DataAuthenticator

DataAuthenticator is intended for use by clinicians to review medical device data for a particular patient for the purposes of clinical review and authentication. The solution provides functionality that allows a clinician to modify a parameter selection and add clinical notes to a selected parameter.

Notable Customers Providence Health & Services (Renton, Wash.), Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center (New York, N.Y.), Cooper University Hospital (Camden, N.J.), University Hospitals (Cleveland, Ohio), Metro South Medical Center (Chicago, Ill.), University Health System (San Antonio, Texas), Jefferson Regional Medical Center (Pine Bluff, Ark.)
